THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE. Mayor Loague has broken the ice, and, in a message published this morning as part of the proceedings of the general thoritative statement of his policy and purposes. It is but justice to him to say that it is a clear, coucise and logical document, presented in plain language and with a comprehensive array of tabular statements, show-$100,000 due city employes and the Nic-& Co., amounts to $5,625,081 53, and that with that claim as allowed by the ing the actual condition of the city, financially and otherwise. He shows us that the debt, including the olson pavement claim of T. E. Brown city, it is $4,805,081 53. Of this $3,982,-000 is bonded debt, $603,081 53 floating debt, $100,000 wages due the employes, and $540,000 for Nicolson pavement, as claimed by Brown & Co., or $120,000, as allowed that firm by the city. To meet this, we have assets amounting to $1,548,818 09, ropsisting of $312,880 due by the purchasers of the city stock in the Charleston railroad, and taxes past due amounting to $977,189 01, of which fully one-third has been due since 1870. These taxes the mayor promises to make it his first duty, if supported by the board, to collect, calling in, if need be, the power of the courts, and the proceeds are to be rigidly applied to the liquidation of the rigidly applied to the liquidation of the the common council, and, after finishing the business as reported elsewhere, re-assembled. hundred lots owned by the city are to be sold and the rents to be collected from such lots as are now owned by the city. The mayor is emphatic in his insistance upon the prompt collection of taxes, and the prosecution of all pending suits to a successful solution, though farther on he warns the council against litigation, when it is possible in honor to avoid it. He will foreclose the mortgage on the Gayoso house, and collect the sums due by the purchasers of the Charleston stock. He fund commissioners, and refers to met in general council for the purpose receiving a message from the mayor. strongest terms upon an improved sanitary condition and the repair of the pavement. The gas company and the wharf and wharfage are overhauled, and a strong recommendation is made for a reduction of the latter. Mr. Loague is unquestionably an economist, if he is to be judged by this message, wherein we find this sentence: "No more bonds, no increase of permanent indebtedness, stop and pay." BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN. The regular monthly meeting of the board of councilmen was held last evening in the city hall at seven o'clock, the president, Councilman Hewitt, in the chair. The following members of the board were present: Councilmen Kelly, Walsh, Chase, Beehn, Tuther, Roush, Happek, Hunt, Carpenter, Barinds, Hughes, Thomas, Harvey, Clouston, Keck, Walters, Moon, Morti, and Page.

There was a large attendance of citizens present to listen to the proceedings.

GENERAL COUNCIL. The board of aldermen, headed by their president, Alderman H. S. Lee, entered the council chamber, and the general council also pays his respects to the sinking was organized.

President Hewitt announced that they had

With that object in view, I beg leave to sub-mit the following statement of the financial condition of the city, with such suggestions as may be, I hope, of benefit to our citizens, and will, it is to be hoped, improve our credit throughout the country, to all of which your attention and legislative wisdom is sincerely invoked. invoked.

On examination of exhibit "A," you will see that our bonded indebtedness on the first day of January, 1874, was $5,982,000, and our floating debt $600,081 53, making a total indebtness

ing debt $600.081 53, making a total indebtness of $1,585.081 53

Exhibit "B" is a detailed statement of the city's assets which, were it possible to make available, would more than pay off the entire floating debt, assets being $1,518.813 59, leaving a net indebtedness of $1,036,038 44.

Exhibit "C" is a statement showing the amounts due by the purchasers of the city's stock in the Memphis and Charleston railroad company, and not including interest on past due coupons, the debt exclusive of interest on coupons past due, being $511,389, of which total debt $181,389 is past due.

Exhibit "D" is a statement of past due taxes owing to the city on the first day of January, 1874, neglinning with the fortieth corporate year (1897), making a total of $77,189 61, of which socialities and interest on the city on the first day of January, 1874, neglinning with the fortieth corporate year (1897), making a total of $77,789 61, of which social of $77,789 61, of the city, it is a statement of the amount and maturities of coupons redeemed from January 1, 1870, to January 1, 1874, making a total of $77,700, of which $22,50 are coupons from bonds of Memphis and Little Rock railroad company. The May and November payments were the coupons on the gold bonds of the city, the interest on which has been paid promptly up to last November. Exhibit "F" is a comparative statement of revenue collected during the past four years, which will repay a careful examination. It will be observed that there were over $10,000 more collected during the last month of 1873 than in the same time in 1872.

Another item of interest, and one which speaks volumes in proof of the improved morals of the community is, that whilst the fines and forfeitures in the recorder's court during the year 1870 were $1,637.50, in 1873 the same source of revenue was reduced to $12,719 55. A further and perhaps more conclusive evidence of reform is to

For means sufficient to defray the expenses of the city, which has averaged during the past year $38,488.20 per mouth, some legislation will be necessary, which, I crust, at an early day, will receive your consideration. To devise a speedy and certain pian to collect the past due debt and taxes to the city, will occupy much of your attention. I am not wedded past due debt and taxes to the city, will occupy much of your attention. I am not wedded to any particular plan or policy, but would respectfully suggest that, with the aid of the courts, the city may collect her past due taxes without much delay, and proceed rapidly with the liquidation of, at least, her floating indebtedness. With that object in view, the mayor recommends that the suits already commenced against the purchasers of the city's stock in the Memphis and Charleston railroad company be prosecuted with all speed; that arrangements be made, as soon as convenient, to dispose of some six hundred valuable lots, to which the city noids title, as appears from the records in the county register's office; that the mortgage on the Gayoso house for thirty-eight thousand dollars be foreclosed, and that the city proceed to collect the rents on all property which she holds by virtue of recent purchases at tax sales, to which she has not yet acquired deeds.

That you further ordain that the $185,500 of bonds, now in the hands of the sinking fund commissioners, be placed in the hands of the conneil, thereby saving to our citizens on $105,50 bonds on hand, in the next thirty years $195,90, being the interest on the bonds already purchased and owned by the city, for the greater portion of the boads purchased are of recent issue, having thirty years to fun, and probably the most of them are a part of the last $200,00 which have been issued without the people's anothon. The commissioners may be, if necessary, enjoined from investing in such securities.

Although the city has the right in law and the sanction of the constitution to collect a privilege tax of merchants, it is to be hoped that your united wisdom will suggest some other mode of procuring sufficient revenue, and sease imposing burdens on one class double that imposed on others, as is the case double that imposed on others, as is the case at present, by collecting a privilege and an at such the same capital used by merchants.

city of Memphis, will probably be decided at the present term of the supreme court, at Washington. William M. Randolph, Esq., late city attorney, has at length consented to assist the counsel already employed at Washington to defend the city interest. This is, of course, a cause of gratification to all our citizens. Especially must it be so, on account of Mr. Randolph's familiarity with the suit from the commencement. In the meantime the mandate of the United States court is being strictly obeyed. Three competent clerks are employed in preparing the tax books, and in the meantime the collector will receive the Nicolson pavement tax when he collects the taxes for other purposes. In round numbers the city admits that she owes $120,000. Neither amounts are taken into account in the floatthe city admits that she owes $120.00, whilst Messrs, brown & Co. claim $50,000. Neither amounts are taken into account in the floaring indebtedness. The sanitary condition of the city will require your immediate action; since the beginning of the present year comparatively little has been effected toward cleaning the paved streets and alleys, and the time is now for action to place the city in good condition for the coming season, large sums of money must necessarily be expended in this way, and also in repairing the now almost decayed wooden pavement, or paving anew with some kind of 'ubstantial material. The general health of the citzens since," the departure of the yellow-lever has been excellent, and, with ordinary care, there is no good reason why it should not remain so. I shall be happy to co-operate with you in carrying out any measure which promises to protect the health of our citizens. The great increase in the expense of lighting the streets demands your careful attention. If this increase is owin; to the unwarrantable exactions of monoposies, it should be resisted, and it does appear but reasonable that the company, for the privileges granted to it, should be willing to furnish gas for city purposes at a price returning a moderate profit, and thus disarm a wide-spread dissatisfaction in the community on this subject; but we should not healtate to apply the remedy. The cost of gastlight and lamps in 1870 was $26,332 61; in 1873 it was $34,640 11. Comment is unnecessary.

remedy. The cost of gaslight and lamps in 1870 was $20,302 cl; in 1873 it was $24,600 ll. Comment is unnecessary.

The condition of our public landing will properly occupy your attention, and receive due consideration. The thousands of dollars heretofore expended in paving the levee will ere long be forever lost. The caving in of the entire city's front is going on so rapidly that unless immediate action is had by the city the loss will be very great. The wharfage rates have been for many years a cause of just grievance to steambostmen. The revenue from wharfage should not exceed the actual amount needed to keep the levee in repair, and every dollar collected should be expended on our landing. It is difficult to conceive why an onerous and almost prohibitory tax should be imposed on scamboais ficating on the Father of Waters for the mere privilege of calling st our landing, leaving with us what we want, or calling for the purpose of conveying from our city such wares and merchandize as are needed by the people of the surrounding country. Might we not as consistently collect a tax on every railroad train coming into our city?

Gentlemen, you will be called upon to levy and collect taxes for educational purposes. In doing so, let it be remembered that nothing tends more to the happiness of the citizens, the increase of population and and wealth, than the acquisition of knowledge. The friends of education (and who is not? may, with pleasure, point to our city as enjoying rare opportunities for the dissemination of useful knowledge through the agency of our public schools, colleges, and convents.

To this must be added an additional tax to meet the indements already decread and that was had judgments already decreed and just now held up until an opportunity is given you gentlemen to raise the money.

The last, but by no means the least important matter to which I beg to call your attention, is the urgent necessity of procuring immediately a workhouse for criminals, and a house of correction for juveniles. When punishment must be imposed, let it be with a view to improving the condition of the unfortunate law-breaker; on the other hand let us show by our course that vice and crime in every conceivable form will meet with proper punishment, that the life and property of the citizen shall be protected, cost what it may, and law-breakers punished.

In conclusion, gentlemen, let us bear in adgments already decreed and just now held punished.

In conclusion, gentlemen, let us bear in mind that we should use our best efforts to greater simplicity in our municipal government; greater economy in its administration; the cutting off of useless expenditures in all directions; a stop to all projects involving an increase of our permanent indebtedness, with little or no public benefit; no moneys to be paid without a fair equivalent received; no salaries without says or renness, with little or no public benefit; no moneys to be paid without a fair equivalent received; no salaries without services rendered; no gifts or presents of any kind under any pretence, to be received by any official of the city; a thorough accountability for every cent of revenue belonging to the city, and scrupulous care taken that it reaches the city treasury. As one of the general issues now before us, I fully recognize the duty of procisiming no more bonds—no further increase of the city's permanent indebtedness. Let us stop and pay. The people require rest—breathing time to recover from the exhaustion resulting from our past mode of doing business. You may rely upon my earnest co-operation with your honorable body in all measures, which shall prevent the further increase of debt, and yet still do all that may be necessary for the full but gradual development of our fair city, and thus lay the foundation for the accomplishment of what we all desire—the growth, prosperity and happiness of our city and her people.

In conclusion, gentlemen, permit me to assure you of my earnest desire to work in accord with you, for the best interests of the city; and, by a faithful adherence to an honest administration of our government, may we not hope for the Divine favor, the reward of a consciousness of duties well performed, and the approbation of those who have devolved such important trusts upon us.

The annual report of the hospital physician was received and filed. The report sets forth that four wards, with capacity for twenty-five patients, have been constructed, besides other improvements, including fences, etc., a new laundry, store-shop, bed-house, etc., made out of material of old buildings. The pest-house has ceased to be a part of the hospital, no smallpox patients having been received since May 15, 1873. The construction of a new hospital, is contemplated. Arrangements have been effected by which to secure water from the water company. The total expenses, after deducting improvements, etc., $22,505 26, for 1873, the cost of each patient being $5.60 cents per day. Thanks were returned to Mayor Johnson for the commendable interest displayed in behalf of the hospital and the securing of the property to the city.

The board of aldermen then retired. HOSPITAL PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

The report of Phil. R. Athy, chief of police, shows 507 arrests for January, 1874, 366 being in the upper and 147 in the lower district. Of those arrested 100 were benedicts and 407 codebs, a strong argument in favor of matrimony. During the month 484 chain-gang prisoners were fed at 45 cents per caput, making a total of $217 30, and 743 ordinary at 30 cents per caput, making a total of $227 meals to prisoners amounts to $40 70. REPORT OF IMPROVEMENT COMMIT-

The joint improvement committee recommended the adoption of resolutions to erect lamp-posts and sidwalks on certain syenues. The report of the committee on the various resolutions was adopted. COMMITTEE ON ACCOUNTS. The committee on accounts recommended the payment of the salaries up to date of January first, amounting to $436 85, and other accounts and commissions amounting, with the above, to the sum of $24,857 37. The report was received and adopted.

This committee reported that a large amount of the wharf and landing was occupied by private parties. The committee gave a geological and historical description of the siluvial deposit, and recommended that the squatters be allowed to occupy the property for — years, on condition of paying rent and leaving at a certain time. The navy-yard was in the hands of a receiver and in a condition to have its title restored to the committee. The committee regarded the wharfboat as a nuisance, a-king its removal and urging the driven from Union street to the elevator, in order to protect the levee, the cost being only seven thousand dollars. The land on the levee was being washed away in many places.

On motion the report was received.
